

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

TJR
Docket No: 5654-09
26 April 2010

[REDACTED]

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of Title 10, United States Code, Section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 20 April 2010. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record, and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

You enlisted in the Navy on 21 June 1988 at age 17 and served without disciplinary incident. The record reflects that on 4 December 1989 you were referred for a psychiatric evaluation because of suicidal thoughts, specifically, two suicidal gestures by ingesting an overdose of medication. After undergoing a psychiatric evaluation, you were diagnosed with a severe dependent personality disorder with passive aggressive and narcissistic personality traits. You were recommended for an expeditious administrative separation because it was determined that if retained, you might have again attempted suicide.

Subsequently, you were processed for an administrative separation by reason of convenience of the government due to your diagnosed personality disorder. The discharge authority directed an honorable discharge by reason of convenience of the government due to a diagnosed personality disorder, and on 5 March 1990, you were so discharged and were assigned an RE-4 reenlistment code.

The Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, such as your youth and desire to change the narrative reason for separation and reenlistment code. Nevertheless, the Board concluded these factors were not sufficient to warrant changes in the narrative reason for separation or reenlistment code because of the severity of your diagnosed personality disorder. Finally, the Board found that you did not provide any psychiatric evidence to negate the diagnoses of a personality disorder. Accordingly, your application has been denied.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director
