

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

CRS
Docket No: 3227-07
1 May 2008

[REDACTED]

This is in reference to your request for further consideration of your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of title 10 of the United States Code section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 30 April 2008. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found that the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

The Board found that you enlisted in the Marine Corps on 19 January 1981. During the period of your service from 19 January 1981 to 22 January 1985, you received five nonjudicial punishments. The offenses included unauthorized absences totaling 12 days, disrespect, disobedience of a lawful order, and sleeping on post.

A special court-martial convened on 14 March 1984 and found you guilty of an unauthorized absence of a day, disrespect, escaping from confinement, leaving place of duty without being properly relieved, and theft. The court sentenced you to confinement at hard labor for five months, forfeitures of $100 per month for five months, and a bad conduct discharge. You received the bad conduct discharge on 22 January 1985.

In its review of your application the Board carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, such as your youth, good post service conduct, and the contention that your undiagnosed mental condition caused your misconduct. The Board concluded that those factors were insufficient to warrant recharacterization of your discharge, given the nature and severity of your offenses.

Further, there is no credible evidence to show that you suffered from a mental condition while in the Marine Corps. In addition, even if you had symptoms of a mental condition during your period of active duty, there is no indication that you did not know right from wrong or were unable to adhere to the right. Accordingly, your application has been denied. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

ROBERT D. ZSALMAN
Acting Executive Director
