

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

TJR
Docket No: 8752-07
27 October 2008

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of Title 10, United States Code, Section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 21 October 2008. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record, and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

You enlisted in the Navy on 27 May 1999 at age 18. On 2 June 1999, while in recruit training, you were hospitalized due to a suicide attempt and referred for a psychiatric evaluation. As a result, on 3 June 1999, you reported a history of relationship problems, experiencing chronic emptiness, having identity disturbances, and suicidal behavior. You were diagnosed with occupational problems and a borderline personality disorder. You were also found to be unfit for further service and recommended for an expeditious administrative separation.

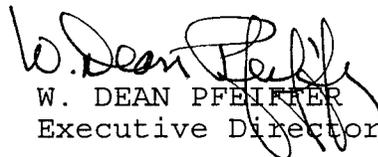

On 7 June 1999 you were notified of pending administrative separation by reason of erroneous entry due to the diagnosed personality disorder. At that time you did not object to the separation and waived your right to submit a rebuttal statement to the aforementioned notification. On 8 June 1999 the separation authority directed an uncharacterized entry level separation by reason of erroneous entry and on 11 June 1999 you were so separated and assigned an RE-4 reenlistment code.

The Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, such as your youth, desire to reenlist, and assertion that you were told that you could reenlist after making sure that you wanted to serve in the military. Nevertheless, the Board concluded these factors were not sufficient to warrant a change in your reenlistment code because of your diagnosed personality disorder, which was sufficient to support the assignment of an RE-4 reenlistment code. Finally, such a code is authorized by regulatory guidance and normally assigned to Sailors who are separated due to their failure to complete recruit training. Accordingly, your application has been denied.

The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director
