

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

CRS
Docket No: 1947-09
1 February 2010

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of title 10 of the United States Code section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 16 December 2009. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations and policies.

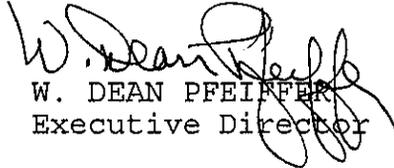

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found that the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

The Board found that you enlisted in the Navy on 21 February 1991. You underwent psychological evaluation on 29 April 1993 and were given a diagnosis of an anti-social personality disorder. The psychologist who conducted the evaluation considered you to be a threat to yourself and others. On 24 May 1993 you received an honorable discharge by reason of other physical/mental conditions - personality disorder and were assigned a reentry code of RE-4.

A reentry code of RE-4 is authorized by regulatory guidance and is often assigned to individuals separated due to personality disorders, especially if they are deemed to constitute a threat to themselves or others. The Board concluded that your reentry code was properly assigned, and that you failed to demonstrate that your reentry code was assigned in error, or that it is unjust. Accordingly, your application has been denied. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director
