

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

BAN
Docket No: 01687-10
25 October 2010

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of title 10, United States Code, section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 21 October 2010. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record, and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

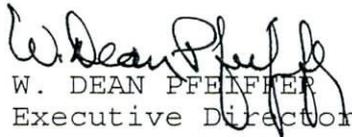

You had prior active duty service in the Marine Corps in which you received an honorable discharge. You reenlisted in June 1983, and served without disciplinary incident until you had committed a serious offense (COSO) (carnal knowledge). Your record is incomplete, but it appears that you were recommended for separation with an other than honorable discharge due to COSO. You exercised your right to request an administrative discharge board (ADB). The ADB found you had committed misconduct but recommended that you be separated with a general discharge. The separation authority approved the recommendation and on 17 November 1983, you were separated with a general discharge and an RE-4 (not recommended for retention) reenlistment code due to COSO.

The Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, such as your youth, character reference letter, and prior honorable service. Nevertheless, the Board concluded these factors were not sufficient to warrant recharacterization of your discharge because of the seriousness of your misconduct. The Board noted that you were fortunate to receive a general discharge, since an individual who is separated for misconduct such as yours normally receives an other than honorable characterization of service. Accordingly, your application has been denied. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material ~~evidence on other~~ matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director
