This is in reference to your application for correction of naval record pursuant to the provisions of 10 USC 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 12 October 2010. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with the administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations and policies. In addition, the Board considered the advisory opinion furnished by the Headquarters Marine Corps, letter 1741 MMSR-4 of 28 May 2010, a copy of which is attached.

The Board also considered your request for a personal appearance, however found that the issues in the case were adequately documented and that a personal appearance would not materially add to the Board's understanding of the issues involved. Thus, your request for a personal appearance has been denied.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found that the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice. In this connection the Board substantially concurred with the comments contained in the advisory opinion. The Board found no error or injustice in the records that show that you were properly transferred to the Temporary Disability Retired List after 17 years, 8 months and 4 days of active service. The Board found no cause to credit you with the additional time you requested which you did not serve.¹ Accordingly, your application has been denied. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is also important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director

¹ The Board also noted that you have applied for a correction to your record for an error that allegedly occurred more than eleven years ago. Under the rules governing the Board, an application for a correction of a naval record must be made within three years after the discovery of the alleged error. Failure to file within the prescribed three years may be excused only in cases where the Board finds that it is in the interests of justice to do so. The Board found that it is not in the interests of justice to excuse the three year time limit in your particular case. You neglected to assert your claim for an inordinately long period of time without justification. You have provided no evidence as to why you did not seek to have the alleged error corrected earlier.
