Docket No. NR2155-15

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of 10 USC 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 16 March 2015. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found that the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice. Accordingly, your application and your request for a personal appearance before the Board have been denied.

You entered in the Delayed Entry/Enlistment Program (DEP) on 12 May 1992 per DD Form 4 (Enlistment/Reenlistment Document Armed Forces of the United States). You then entered active service on 23 September 1992 per DD Form 1966 (Record of Military Processing - Armed Forces of the United States), DD Form 214 (Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty), and NAVPERS 1070/604 (Enlisted Qualification History). Moreover, NAVPERS 1070/604 listed your rate as an AA/E2 and you were not recommended for reenlistment. You were released from active service as an AA/E2 due to reduction in force with a Reentry code of RE-7 (completing the initial 2-year active duty obligation under the 2X8 Navy Reserve Program) on 13 September 1994. On 30 June 1997, while serving in the Navy Reserves, you completed your advancement requirements of HM3/E4, although you were not advanced; on 11 May 2000, you were discharged with a pay grade of SN/E3.

In summary, you were released from active service 20 years ago. You have submitted three different requests to BCNR. Some of the facts and personnel have either disappeared or moved on. After reviewing your military records and the documentation that you submitted, the Board can find no evidence to support your claim that you arrived at boot camp on 12 September 1992. All the evidence that we have points to 23 September 1992 as the date when you entered active service. Furthermore, there is no evidence that you were advanced to E3 prior to your separation from the Navy. Your record does not show that you were recommended for advancement; however, it does show you were not recommended for reenlistment. Moreover, while your records show that you completed the Personnel advancement requirements for HM3 on 30 June 1997, there is no evidence that you were recommended and advanced to E4.

The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new evidence within one year from the date of the Board's decision. New evidence is evidence not previously considered by the Board prior to making its decision in this case. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

ROBERT J. O'NEILL
Executive Director
