Dear █

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to Section 1552 of Title 10, United States Code. After careful and conscientious consideration of relevant portions of your naval record and your application, the Board for Correction of Naval Records (Board) found the evidence submitted insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice. Consequently, your application has been denied.

A three-member panel of the Board, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 3 June 2021. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, relevant portions of your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations and policies. In addition, the Board considered the advisory opinion contained in Commander, Navy Personnel Command letter 5730 PERS 9 undated; a copy of which was previously provided to you for comment.

On 13 March 1989, you enlisted for 8 years in the U.S. Army Reserve. On 30 November 1989, you entered active duty in the U.S. Army Reserve, and you were released from active duty training on 10 July 1990. On 30 April 1994, you were discharged due to Pregnancy. On 31 August 1995, you reenlisted in the U.S. Naval Reserve for 3 years with an EOS of 30 August 1998. On 31 March 2008, you reenlisted in the U.S. Naval Reserve for 4 years.

You requested to have your Pay Entry Base Date (PEBD) to be recalculated to 31 August 1995; the Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, to include your assertions. However, the Board concluded that upon your reentry into U.S. Naval Reserve on 31 March 2008 you had two periods of creditable service for pay from 30 November 1989 through 30 April 1994 and again from 31 August 1995 through 30 August 1998 for a total of 7 years, 5 months, and 1 day. The Board noted that the above data calculates a PEBD of 30 October 2000 compared to the 1 November 2000 date provided in the advisory opinion. It is recommended that you request an audit of the PEBD from the service for clarification. In this connection, the Board substantially concurred with the comments contained in the advisory opinion.

You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new matters, which will require you to complete and submit a new DD Form 149. New matters are those not previously presented to or considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,
