

young and immature, and made bad choices during your service. The Board reviewed your statement regarding your positive post service conduct. The Board determined you failed to provide sufficient evidence to support your statements. The Board found that the severity of your drug related misconduct outweighed your current desire to upgrade your discharge. The Board found no error or injustice in your naval record. Accordingly, given the totality of the circumstances, the Board determined that your request does not merit relief.

You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new matters, which will require you to complete and submit a new DD Form 149. New matters are those not previously presented to or considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.
