

Board concluded these potentially mitigating factors were insufficient to warrant relief. The Board found no error or injustice in your record and determined, based on your fraudulent entry discharge, you were issued the appropriate reentry code. Ultimately, the Board concluded your desire to pursue a career with the National Guard was insufficient to overcome the negative conduct that resulted in your fraudulent entry discharge. In making this finding, the Board noted you did not submit any evidence in support of your application including advocacy letters. Accordingly, given the totality of the circumstances, the Board determined that your request does not merit relief.

You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon the submission of new matters, which will require you to complete and submit a new DD Form 149. New matters are those not previously presented to or considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,
