

the report was Not Observed and concurred with the AO that the medical diagnosis, and Limited Duty Determination, which prevented you from serving as a recruiter are valid reasons for your removal from recruiting duty. However, the Board agreed that the identified RS comment could be construed as pejorative and was appropriately removed by the PERB out of an abundance of caution, but removing the entire report is not warranted. Consequently, the Board determined that the contested report, as modified, is administratively correct, and insufficient evidence of error or injustice exists to remove it from your record. Accordingly, given the totality of the circumstances, the Board determined that your request does not merit relief.

You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new matters, which will require you to complete and submit a new DD Form 149. New matters are those not previously presented to or considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,
