

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY

BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS 701 S. COURTHOUSE ROAD, SUITE 1001 ARLINGTON, VA 22204-2490

> Docket No: 3640-22 Ref: Signature Date

Dear Petitioner:

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to Section 1552 of Title 10, United States Code. After careful and conscientious consideration of relevant portions of your naval record and your application, the Board for Correction of Naval Records (Board) found the evidence submitted insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice. Consequently, your application has been denied.

Although you did not file your application in a timely manner, the statute of limitations was waived in accordance with the 25 August 2017 guidance from the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (Kurta Memo). A three-member panel of the Board, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 17 October 2022. The names and votes of the panel members will be furnished upon request. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application together with all material submitted in support thereof, relevant portions of your service record, and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies, to include the Kurta Memo, the 3 September 2014 guidance from the Secretary of Defense regarding discharge upgrade requests by Veterans claiming post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD)/mental health condition (MHC) (Hagel Memo), and the 25 July 2018 guidance from the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness regarding equity, injustice, or clemency determinations (Wilkie Memo). The Board also considered an advisory opinion (AO) from a qualified mental health professional, dated 21 July 2022, and your response to the AO.

The Board determined that your personal appearance, with or without counsel, would not materially add to their understanding of the issues involved. Therefore, the Board determined that a personal appearance was not necessary and considered your case based on the evidence of record.

You enlisted in the United States Marine Corps and commenced a period of active duty on 16 June 1977. Your pre-enlistment medical examination and self-reported medical history noted no psychiatric or neurologic conditions or symptoms.

On 24 July 1978, you convicted at Special Court Martial (SPCM) of violating Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) Article 91, for physically assaulting a superior noncommissioned officer who was in the execution of his duties. You were sentenced to confinement at hard labor for 4 months. On 20 December 1978, shortly after you were released from confinement, you received nonjudicial punishment (NJP) for violating UCMJ Article 86, for absence without authority and failing to report for duty. On 4 June 1980, you were again found guilty at NJP, this time for violating Article 91, disobeying a lawful order, after using disrespectful language to a superior.

On 20 August 1980, you were served court-martial charges for violating Article 86 (unauthorized absence - 4 specifications), Article 91 (using disrespectful language toward a Staff Sergeant), and Article 92 (driving an unregistered vehicle on base). In accordance with MARCORSEPMAN, Paragraph 6021, you requested discharge for the good of the service in lieu of trial court martial. After consulting with qualified counsel, you acknowledged your rights and requested discharge from the service with an Other than Honorable (OTH) characterization of service. Ultimately, on 9 September 1980, you were discharged from the Marine Corps for the "Good of the Service" with an "OTH" characterization of service, with the separation code of "KFS1" and assigned an "RE- 4" reentry code.

The Board carefully considered all potentially mitigating and/or extenuating factors to determine whether the interests of justice warrant relief in your case in accordance with the Kurta, Hagel, and Wilkie Memos. These included, but were not limited to, your desire to upgrade your discharge characterization and contentions that : (a) the profound adverse impact of your brother's death, (b) that you were young, emotionally hurt, and grieving, (c) that you felt the 24 July 1978 court martial was a "Kangaroo Court," (d) that you have lost post-service employment opportunities, and (e) that you are sorry for your actions. For purposes of clemency consideration, the Board reviewed the numerous character letters that you submitted in support of your request.

As part of the Board review process, the BCNR Physician Advisor who is a licensed clinical psychologist (Ph.D.), reviewed your contentions and the available records and issued an AO dated 21 July 2022. The Ph.D. noted in pertinent part:

There is no evidence that he was diagnosed with a mental health condition in military service, or that he exhibited any psychological symptoms or behavioral changes indicative of a diagnosable mental health condition. Throughout his disciplinary processing, there were no concerns raised of a mental health condition that would have warranted a referral for evaluation. He has provided no medical evidence to support his claims. Unfortunately, his personal statement alone is not sufficiently detailed to establish clinical symptoms or provide a nexus with his misconduct. Additional records (e.g., post-service mental health records describing the Petitioner's diagnosis, symptoms, and their specific link to his misconduct) would aid in rendering an alternate opinion.

The Ph.D. concluded, "it is my considered clinical opinion there is insufficient evidence of a diagnosis of PTSD or another mental health condition that may be attributed to military service. There is insufficient evidence his misconduct could be attributed to PTSD or another mental health condition."

In response to the AO, you explained that you do not have insurance, so you are unable to provide documentation in support of your PTSD and MHC claims. However, you asserted that you suffer from anxiety and panic attacks, leading to a state of depression.

Based upon this review, the Board concluded these potentially mitigating factors were insufficient to warrant relief. In accordance with the Kurta, Hagel, and Wilkie Memos, the Board gave liberal and special consideration to your record of service, and the traumatic event of your brother's death, which may have had an adverse impact on your service. However, the Board concluded that there was no convincing evidence that you suffered from any type of mental health condition while on active duty, or that any such mental health condition was related to or mitigated the misconduct that formed the basis of your discharge. As a result, the Board concluded that your misconduct was not due to mental health-related symptoms. In making this finding, the Board concurred with the AO that there is insufficient evidence your misconduct could be attributed to PTSD or another mental health condition. Moreover, the Board observed that you did not submit any clinical documentation or treatment records to support your mental health claims despite a request from BCNR on 19 May 2022 to specifically provide additional documentary material. The Board determined the record clearly reflected that your active duty misconduct was intentional and willful and demonstrated you were unfit for further service. The Board also determined that the evidence of record did not demonstrate that you were not mentally responsible for your conduct or that you should otherwise not be held accountable for your actions. After receiving advice from qualified military counsel, you requested discharge for the good of the service with an OTH characterization, thereby avoiding a possible court martial conviction and a punitive discharge. Your written statement, dated 22 August 1980, which you provided as part of your discharge request, does not mention mental health concerns or the impact of a traumatic or stressful event as the cause of your repeated misconduct. The separation authority granted you clemency by accepting your separation in lieu of trial by court martial.

The Board also observed that character of military service is based, in part, on conduct and overall trait averages which are computed from marks assigned during periodic evaluations. Your overall active duty trait average was 3.7 in conduct (proper military behavior). Marine Corps regulations in place at the time of your discharge required a minimum trait average of 4.0 in conduct (proper military behavior), for a fully honorable characterization of service. The Board concluded that your conduct marks during your active duty career were a direct result of your pattern of serious misconduct which further justified your OTH characterization of discharge.

Additionally, the Board noted that there is no provision of federal law or in Navy/Marine Corps regulations that allows for a discharge to be automatically upgraded after a specified number of months or years. The Board did not believe that your record was otherwise so meritorious as to deserve a discharge upgrade. The Board determined that characterization under OTH conditions is appropriate when the basis for separation is the commission of an act or acts constituting a significant departure from the conduct expected of a service member. Lastly, absent a material error or injustice, the Board declined to summarily upgrade a discharge solely for the purpose of facilitating veterans' benefits, or enhancing educational or employment opportunities. As a result, the Board determined that there was no impropriety or inequity in your discharge, and even under the liberal consideration standard for mental health conditions, the Board concluded that your pattern of serious misconduct clearly merited your receipt of an OTH. As a result, the Board concluded your conduct constituted a significant departure from that expected of a Marine and continues to warrant an OTH characterization. While the Board commends your post-discharge good character, even in light of the Wilkie Memo and reviewing the record holistically, the Board still concluded that insufficient evidence of an error or injustice exists to warrant upgrading your characterization of service or granting clemency in the form of an upgraded characterization of service. Accordingly, given the totality of the circumstances, the Board determined that your request does not merit relief.

You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new matters, which will require you to complete and submit a new DD Form 149. New matters are those not previously presented to or considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.
