Dear █,

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to Section 1552 of Title 10, United States Code. After careful and conscientious consideration of relevant portions of your naval record and your application, the Board for Correction of Naval Records (Board) found the evidence submitted insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice. Consequently, your application has been denied.

A three-member panel of the Board, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 27 February 2024. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, relevant portions of your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies.

The Board determined that your personal appearance, with or without counsel, would not materially add to their understanding of the issues involved. Therefore, the Board determined that a personal appearance was not necessary and considered your case based on the evidence of record.

You requested advancement to Radioman First Class (RM1c)/E-6. The Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, to include your assertions. However, the Board concluded that your record reflects you were inducted into the United States Navy Reserve (V-6) on 27 November 1943. On 26 June 1944, you were advanced to RM3c/E-4. You entered active duty on 4 December 1944 and in April 1945, you completed the practical factors for RM2c/E-5. On 24 May 1945, you participated in the advancement examination for RM2c/E-5 and selected for advancement effective 1 June 1945. On 8 June 1946, you were discharged from the Navy. The Board could not find, nor did you provided evidence of completing the practical factors for RM1c/E-6, your participation in an advancement examination for RM1c/E-6, or selection for advancement to RM1c/E-6. Therefore, the Board determined that a change to your record is not warranted.

You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new matters, which will require you to complete and submit a new DD Form 149. New matters are those not previously presented to or considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

3/4/2024
