

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
BOARD FOR CORRECTION OF NAVAL RECORDS
2 NAVY ANNEX
WASHINGTON DC 20370-5100

CRS
Docket No: 3806-01
19 October 2001

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of Title 10, United States Code, Section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 3 October 2001. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found that the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

The Board found that you reenlisted in the Navy on 25 January 1994 after more than three years of prior active service. A psychiatric evaluation, conducted on 20 September 1995, found that you had a personality disorder and dysthymia. You refused treatment for the dysthymia. On 16 October 1995 you received an honorable discharge by reason of the diagnosed personality disorder. At that time you were assigned a reenlistment code of RE-3G.

In its review of your application the Board carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, such as your contention that you do not have a personality disorder. However, the Board concluded since you submitted no evidence that you were incorrectly diagnosed with a personality disorder, there is no basis to change the reason for discharge.

The Board noted that an RE-3G reenlistment code is the most favorable reenlistment code authorized by regulatory guidance for individuals discharged due to diagnosed personality disorders. The Board thus concluded that there is no error or injustice in your reenlistment code.

Accordingly, your application has been denied. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director
