BAN
Docket No: 02355-12

[REDACTED]

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to the provisions of title 10, United States Code, section 1552.

A three-member panel of the Board for Correction of Naval Records, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 14 February 2013. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, your naval record, and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies.

After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found the evidence submitted was insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice.

You entered active duty in the Navy on 11 August 2008, and served without disciplinary incident until 27 September 2011, when you received nonjudicial punishment for failing to obey a lawful order by engaging in underage drinking. You were recommended for separation with a general discharge due to misconduct (commission of a serious offense (COSO)). The separation authority approved the recommendation, and on 30 January 2012, you were separated with a general discharge due to misconduct (COSO) and an RE-4 (not recommended for retention) reentry code.

The Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, such as your youth and claim that you were separated due to your pregnancy. Nevertheless, the Board concluded these factors were not sufficient to warrant a change to your reentry code due to your COSO. Finally, your claim that you were separated due to your pregnancy was unsubstantiated. Accordingly, your application has been denied. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request.

It is regretted that the circumstances of your case are such that favorable action cannot be taken. You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new and material evidence or other matter not previously considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,

W. DEAN PFEIFFER
Executive Director
