

A review of your record reflects you reenlisted on 16 April 2009 for 3 years; on 11 November 2011 for 3 years; and on 10 November 2014 for 4 years in which you subsequently extended for 7 months. On 10 July 2018, you submitted a TEB application with less than 4 years remaining on contract and requested to transfer 35 months of unused education benefits to your daughter and 1-month to your spouse. The Service denied your TEB application on 2 August 2018 indicating "SM [Service Member] has not committed to the required additional service time." On 7 March 2019, a 2-month extension was submitted to corporate followed by your transfer to the Fleet Reserve effective 1 August 2019. Therefore, the Board determined that a change to your record is not warranted.

You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new matters, which will require you to complete and submit a new DD Form 149. New matters are those not previously presented to or considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,
