Dear [REDACTED],

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to Section 1552 of Title 10, United States Code. After careful and conscientious consideration of relevant portions of your naval record and your application, the Board for Correction of Naval Records (Board) found the evidence submitted insufficient to establish the existence of probable material error or injustice. Consequently, your application has been denied.

A three-member panel of the Board, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 23 April 2026. The names and votes of the members of the panel will be furnished upon request. Your allegations of error and injustice were reviewed in accordance with administrative regulations and procedures applicable to the proceedings of this Board. Documentary material considered by the Board consisted of your application, together with all material submitted in support thereof, relevant portions of your naval record and applicable statutes, regulations, and policies.

You requested administrative corrections to your Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty (DD Form 214) to reflect active duty dates of 22 July 1991 to 15 March 1994. The Board, in its review of your entire record and application, carefully weighed all potentially mitigating factors, to include your assertions. You assert that block 12c (Net Active Service This Period) does not add up. The Board agreed; however, the reason is not because your active duty dates are wrong. Although you signed your DD Form 1966 and NAVCRUIT 1133/52 on 22 July 1991, you entered active duty on 11 March 1994. Therefore, your DD Form 214 correctly reflects your entry and separation from active duty. Furthermore, the Board determined that blocks 12c (Net Active Service This Period) and 29 (Dates of Time lost This Period) are incorrect, however you have not exhausted your administrative means to make corrections to your record. For additional questions regarding the correction of the DD Form 214, you may contact the MyNavy Career Center at 833-330-6622 or via email at askmncl.fct@navy.mil.

You are entitled to have the Board reconsider its decision upon submission of new matters, which will require you to complete and submit a new DD Form 149. New matters are those not previously presented to or considered by the Board. In this regard, it is important to keep in mind that a presumption of regularity attaches to all official records. Consequently, when applying for a correction of an official naval record, the burden is on the applicant to demonstrate the existence of probable material error or injustice.

Sincerely,
