Dear █,

This is in reference to your application for correction of your naval record pursuant to Title 10, United States Code, Section 1552.

Your application was not filed in a timely manner. A three-member panel of the Board, sitting in executive session, considered your application on 18 December 2025. After careful and conscientious consideration of the entire record, the Board found that it would not be in the interest of justice to excuse your failure to submit your application in a timely manner. Specifically, you failed to provide the Board with a sufficient explanation for your delay in submitting an application within a reasonable time, and you did not provide evidence to corroborate your request for service credit for 1 year and 2 months or 35 drill points for 1993 and 1994. Moreover, in reaching this conclusion, the Board agreed that Title 10, United States Code, Section 1176(b) is not applicable in your case as there was no proof of being in an active status, denied reenlistment or being involuntarily discharged. Thus, the Board was not willing to waive the three-year statute of limitations since the date of discovery, and determined your request should be denied due to the length of time since your discharge.

In the absence of sufficient new evidence for reconsideration, the decision of the Board is final, and your only recourse would be to seek relief, at no cost to the Board, from a court of appropriate jurisdiction.

Sincerely,

12/23/2025
